

GAS EXPLOSION

In Another Coal Mine Results in Heavy Loss of Life.

Sixty-Seven Bodies Have Been Recovered, While Many More Are Believed to be Dead—Miraculous Escape of Some of the Men.

SIDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 1.—A rescuing party is hard at work at Mt. Kembla colliery at Wollangong, where it is feared 127 miners lost their lives by the explosion of gas yesterday. Thus far 27 bodies have been recovered and 149 men and boys have been taken out alive. According to the estimate of the colliery officials there are still 100 men entombed.

The sorrow caused by the loss of life has spread throughout the colony and the New South Wales parliament today adjourned out of sympathy for the bereaved families.

The explosion according to reports received here was a terrible one, and came almost without warning. There were about 275 men at work in the mine. Suddenly there was a low rumbling sound like the gradual rending of a rock, which increased until with a roar, a volume of ignited gas rushed through the mine setting fire to a portion of it and belched out of the mouth, burning the buildings on the outside.

How many of those within the mine escaped with their lives seems miraculous.

Forty more bodies were recovered this morning. This places the number of known dead at 67. The work of rescue continues unabated.

TERROR SEIZED PEOPLE

When the Earth Began to Tremble and Roll—Over 70 Distinct Shocks Since Sunday Night—Great Damage Wrought by Seismic Disturbances.

LOS ALAMOS, CAL., Aug. 1.—With a property loss estimated between $10,000 and $30,000 and fear of fatality, all the people left in Los Alamos, spent the night huddled around a large bonfire wrapped in blankets, none so brave as to enter his home to stay. The 7:30 o'clock shock last night completed what destruction had been left unfinished by the twisting earth. Over 100 shocks have occurred since yesterday morning with the earth in a constant tremble. The temperature has been most oppressive, as much heat coming from the earth as from the sun. The shocks were preceded by rumbling sounds followed by a report similar to cannon shot.

A telephone message from Santa Barbara states that several shocks occurred there, the severest at 7:30 last night but caused no damage. Between Santa Maria and Lompoc, the disturbance indicated great havoc. The roads have become impassable and large quantities of rock thrown down upon the passes. In many places mountain high boulders were torn from their places and rolled down the steep slopes.

Throughout the northern portion of Santa Barbara county great damage is reported.

San Luis Obispo, Cal., Aug. 1.—A strip of country 15 miles long by four miles wide, rent with gaping fissures and dotted with hills and knolls that sprang up during the night as if by magic, a village in ruins and hundreds of people fleeing for their lives, are the results of Wednesday night's seismic disturbances, in the prosperous and fruitful valley of Los Anamos, in the northern part of Santa Barbara county. During the last four days that section of country has been shaken by a series of earthquakes that is without precedent in the history or tradition of the Pacific coast and the continuance of the disturbances and the increasing severity of the shocks have so terrorized the inhabitants that they are leaving for other parts as rapidly as possible and even now the village is almost deserted.

The disturbances began on Sunday evening with a shock which caused several thousand dollars worth of damage to property in the village and the surrounding country, being more severe and more disastrous in the vicinity of the Western Union Oil Company's well on the Carriaga ranch.

This shock was followed by a number of disturbances less severe and less disastrous, continuing through the remainder of Sunday night and Monday afternoon. On Tuesday night, beginning at 12:10 o'clock, there was another series of seven shocks, all of which were light. The general direction of these disturbances was east and west and in action they resembled the waves of a pond of water. The most severe shock of the entire series occurred early yesterday morning as telegraphed in these dispatches to the Advocate yesterday. Hills were shaken and twisted to their foundations, and the valleys trembled and rolled like the unstable surface of the ocean. Great fissures were run deep in the earth, hills and knolls appeared in level valleys, springs of water appeared in many places that had been dry, and the general topography of the valley was greatly changed in many respects. The disturbance had no general direction, but was what is known as a "twister." It was preceded by a rumbling like that of distant thunder, which increased until the earth began to rise and twist and the hills began to tremble.

With the first warning of the sound of the disaster the terror-stricken people rushed into the streets and sought places of safety in vacant lots and roads, while many fled toward the neighboring hills. The first vibrations were similar to the preceding disturbances in direction and effect, but they were immediately followed by the most terrific shock ever experienced in this section of the state. The earth trembled and roared and twisted until it was impossible for people to stand erect, and the terror-stricken inhabitants crouched together in the darkness, fearful that the earth beneath them might open and swallow them. The terror inspired by the rumbling and trembling of the earth was increased by the sound of falling buildings which gave some idea of the terrible destruction that was being done. When the most serious shocks had passed and the rumbling sounds had died away in the distant hills, the people gathered in groups about the ruins of their homes and places of business, and when they saw the extent of the damage done many of them were fearful of a repetition of this experience. Immediately started on foot or by any conveyance that could be had for places where the previous shocks had been less severe.

In the darkness of the night it was impossible to determine the full extent of the damage wrought, but with the dawn of day the stricken village had the appearance of the ruins of a city long deserted. A church had been leveled to the ground and not one brick building was left standing. Chimneys had toppled over, frame buildings had been wrenched apart and thrown from their foundations. Telegraph and telephone wires had been broken and there was not a building in town that had not been damaged more or less seriously.

In store buildings that were totally destroyed the merchandise was thrown from shelves and everything breakable was destroyed; not a pane of glass was left in any window of any house in town, and in the frame cottages and dwelling houses that were left standing stoves were overturned and crockery and glassware destroyed.

A conservative estimate of the loss to property in the village alone is $30,000, and this amount will probably be greatly increased by the damage done property in the surrounding country. Each merchant in town has lost at least $500 in stock, and the damage to buildings has been great. The extent of the most severe portion of the disturbance is eleven miles long by four miles wide, but the shock was felt throughout Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties. At the Western Union oil wells, on the Carriaga ranch, two tanks were wrecked and thrown over, and much other damage was done. The disturbances continued throughout the day at intervals of two hours, but none of the shocks was severe. The people have deserted the village, every conveyance has been taken and the passenger and freight trains that have left here since the severe shock Wednesday night have been loaded with people who are fleeing to Santa Maria and the northern part of the county for safety. Since the first disturbances on Sunday night there have been over 70 distinct shocks, and those who have been keeping records have now given up, as the disturbances have become almost continuous.

EAGLE

CARRIED SLEEPING BABY FROM ITS HAMMOCK.

Later the Child Was Found in Woods Practically Unharmed—Monster Bird, Near Ellis, Ind.

Ellis, Ind., Aug. 1.—The people of this community are in a state of excitement owing to the appearance of an eagle that carried away the two-year-old baby of James Harris.

The Harris family resides on a farm about a half mile from a dense piece of woodland. Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Harris placed her sleeping child in a hammock which was suspended in the front yard, and returned to the house to resume her work. A few moments later she heard the child scream, and hurrying to the yard, was horrified to see the helpless infant in the clutches of the huge bird which was flying westward in the direction of the forest.

Mrs. Harris swooned, and it was more than a half hour before she recovered sufficiently to inform her husband and the farm hands, who were at work some distance from the house.

As soon as Harris became aware of the facts he hurriedly informed his neighbors, who joined him in a search for the child. Every field lying between the Harris home and the woodland was thoroughly gone over, but no trace of the bird or its prey could be found. Upon arriving at the forest a systematic search was inaugurated.

Wm. Bierle, farm hand, heard what sounded like the crying of a child and upon going in the direction from which the sound came discovered the infant lying at the foot of a brush heap. A hurried examination revealed that the baby was unharmed save for a deep scratch on the left shoulder and a huge hawk mark on its breast.

An hour later the baby was returned to his mother. Until dark last night and all day a diligent hunt for the bird has been maintained, but to no avail. Mrs. Harris was so terror-stricken that she is unable to give a description of the bird, and so far as he is known no other person in the community has seen it.

BOUND

To Marry The Man Of Her Choice.

IN SPITE OF HIS OBJECTIONS TO THE MATCH.

LIEBLING ENGAGED TO ANOTHER

Still He's Not Sure of the Future—The Girl Who Pursues Him is Rich and Pretty.

New York, Aug. 1.—Leonard Liebling, a well known attorney, says that he is being pursued by a relentless and beautiful heiress, bent upon becoming his wife.

His story is told by one who came to New York on Koenigsmann Wilhelm with his fair pursuer and it is confirmed by Mr. Liebling himself.

She is pretty and petite. In Berlin she is regarded as the wealthiest young woman in society in that city as well as the possessor of a name that is old and highly honored. Her story she confided to a chance acquaintance, a Baroness.

"After the death of my father, about a year ago," she said, "I came into possession of my fortune, perhaps the greatest in Berlin. My uncle a worldly man, arranged for me to marry where my heart was not. I refused, and then said I would not marry until I met one I could love, and when that man came into my world I would not wait for him to ask for my hand; I would ask for the privilege of becoming his wife."

"It was at a gay house ball given by the American Ambassador in Berlin that I first met a bright young man, a New Yorker, who was studying at the university. I looked upon him and loved him, and it is to urge him to take me as his wife that I now visit New York. His name is Leonard Liebling."

"I sent my barrister to him and suggested that a marriage be arranged. Mr. Liebling refused to consider the suggestion and almost immediately he left Berlin to return to New York. I know that he fears my money, and were I a poverty stricken fraulein he would take me. I am going to him to convince him that he is wrong. He will marry me and I will be happy."

Mr. Liebling admitted he had fled from Berlin to escape the attentions of an heiress he did not love. "She is a remarkable woman," said Mr. Liebling, "and she is so determined that I do not know but what she will compel me to marry her, although I am engaged to another. She is the same young woman who distinguished herself last fall by driving a four-in-hand on the Tempelhof field during the royal maneuvers, interrupting the advance of the Kaiser's own division."

"Many thought she would be reproved, but the Emperor merely smiled and remarked that he had not expected to see the German army held up by a woman."

"When her counsel came to me with the suggestion that I should marry the young woman, I regarded the incident as a joke, and attempted to make her look at it in that way. But she would not have it so. She has now come to America and before the Kronprinz had reached her pier she sent two telegrams to me, one to my office and one to my home. Here is one of them."

Mr. Liebling then displayed a telegram which read thus: "I have arrived on the Kronprinz Wilhelm. Meet me at Pier 52. Elizabeth."

"So you see her determination," continued he. "She has now gone to Newport, where she will stay two weeks visiting in the families of friends."

"Will I marry her, you ask? I do not intend to do so. I am in love with and engaged to marry another but as I said before, she is a determined woman, and I am not so sure of the future."

YOUNG WIFE

Takes Poison Recalling Romantic Career of a Former Indianapolis Girl, Nellie Farrell

New York, Aug. 1.—Nellie Farrell, a comely young bride, hovers between life and death at New York Hospital as the result of an attempt to kill herself with poison. She appears to be the heroine of a singular romance. Nellie was an Indianapolis girl, one of the prettiest in the Hoosier capital when as the daughter of Thomas Smith, a well-to-do citizen, she ran away to make her fortune four years ago.

She was not yet 16 when she fled from her home. Before going she went to a barber shop and had her luxuriant hair cut close to her head and trimmed after the fashion of boys, so that she could part it on the side. Then she sought a suit of boy's clothing and donned it.

She started for Evansville, but before the river packet arrived the girl in boy's clothing was taken ill, and when the boat tied up at the wharf she was bundled into an ambulance and trundled off to the hospital. There her sex was discovered and she was induced to confess. Her father was sent for and when she recovered she made no objections to returning home with him.

Two years ago Miss Nellie became enamored of a horse trainer named Oliver McMakin, and in spite of her father's pleading she became his wife. Last January she was made a widow by her own father, who killed McMakin. Smith was arrested, but was completely exonerated on the preliminary hearing, the evidence showing that he killed McMakin in self-defense.

Two months after her first husband was killed Nellie Smith-McMakin, still in her teens, was wooed and won by young Farrell, the devoted husband who hangs about the hospital anxiously awaiting the outcome of her attempt on her life, which he says was the result of brooding over the death of her baby.

MILLION

DOLLARS TO BE SPENT BY THE U. S. NAVY

For the Demonstration in the Caribbean Sea Next Winter—Twelve Coal Barges Needed

Washington, Aug. 1.—Probably more than a million dollars will be spent by the navy for the maneuvers in the Caribbean sea next winter. This sum includes twelve new coal barges to be built at an expense of $96,000 and then towed to Culebra Island. They were recommended by Admiral Bradford, approved by Admiral Taylor, acting secretary of the navy and Admiral Dole was ordered to construct them. This is but one item. Coal and ammunition in immense quantities will be consumed and incidental expenses in the way of putting the fleet into perfect condition will run very high. A number of ships are now being repaired in order that they may participate, and the rushing of work will necessarily involve extraordinary expenditures.

The New England maneuvers will not be so expensive if figured that the fleet will necessarily be under maintenance charges anyway. So far as it can be learned, it is the plan at present to have the land batteries fire no shots and this, of course, cuts out the waste of ammunition. Meanwhile the army is showing considerable activity in preparation. Artillery officers to a large number have been transferred from one point to another and many have been assigned from the line to the coast artillery.

TWINS DIED

While Endeavoring to Save the Life of Their Brother Edward, Who Will Recover.

Westminster, Md., Aug. 1.—Near M. Kinstry, this county, yesterday John and Sam Trite, twins aged 22, lost their lives in an attempt to save their brother, Edward, who had been overcome by gas at the bottom of a sixty-foot well. Edward was rescued in an unconscious condition. He will recover.

Durand Wins.

Detroit, Aug. 1.—Judge Geo. H. Durand of Flint is the Democratic nominee for Governor, having been nominated on the fourth ballot yesterday afternoon.

PERFECT QUIET

Makes Duty of Pennsylvania Guard Very Light.

Strike Leaders Want the Military Recalled—Secret Plan of Operators—No Thought Now of Declaring Martial Law, Says General Gobin Today.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 1.—Perfect quiet prevails here today and no further outbreak is expected. The 1500 members of the National Guard called out today are sauntering about the country as if on a vacation trip. They anticipate no trouble.

Picket lines and sentries are posted but they have nothing to do for the strikers have determined to hereafter refrain from participating in any disturbances. It is hoped that the governor will decide that the presence of troops is unnecessary and will decide to withdraw them. The strike leaders are working to this end.

The soldiers having nothing else to do will occupy their time in target practice and regimental drills. State-militia take advantage of the presence of the troops here to protect non-union men with whom to open up mines, is not borne out by indications today. The operators evidently propose no such move and it is certain that the fact that the troops are here has not had a weakening effect upon the strikers. The foreigners, concerning the actions of whom the strike leaders have had some apprehension, held meetings last night and resolved to hold out to the end and preserve the peace.

Petitions are being circulated today requesting the governor to withdraw the troops and many signatures are obtained.

General Gobin in charge of the militia here says that the situation is more than satisfactory and that he has no thought of declaring the town under martial law. The general impression is that the troops will not remain here long.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 1.—A special term of the Federal court for the southern district of West Virginia will be held at Bluefield next week at which time the strikers charged with violating the federal injunction granted at the instance of the coal operators along the Norfolk & Western railroad, will be given a hearing. These cases are expected to develop something new inasmuch as the strikers will have an opportunity to test the right of trial by jury.

Another Injunction.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 1.—A force of United States deputy marshals in charge of Chief Deputy Hughes left this morning for New River to serve Judge Keller's injunction issued yesterday. It covers every mining operation in the New River field, except those owned by Thomas G. McKelvey and is directed against G. F. Purcell, W. B. Wilson, John Mitchell and about 200 others, restraining them from interfering in any way with the working miners, marching, assembling or entering upon property of company.

MINERS' VICTORY

Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 1.—Unexpectedly Judge Goff immediately after hearing the petition for the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus for the mine leaders in jail at Parkersburg, granted the writ and instructed the marshal to produce the prisoners here next Tuesday at 10 o'clock for hearing. This is considered a great victory for the miners.

CLOTHING DEALERS

In Their Rivalry Cut Prices on Shirts to Zero—Men Spoiled Fifteen Dollar Suits to Get Fifty Cent Shirts for Nothing.

DOVER, N. H., Aug. 1.—Two local clothing dealers got to cutting their prices yesterday with the result that one closed out his entire stock on shirts at one cent a piece. The other hired a brass band, which gave a concert while the attendants buried their stock of shirts into the dense crowd of men, women and boys, who scrambled for them like mad people. The police had their hands full to prevent a general fight. Men spoiled two dollar hats and tore fifteen dollar suits, fighting to get fifty cent shirts for nothing.

CRACKSMEN

Wrecked Office at Warren and Got Away With Cash and Stamps this Morning.

Warren, O., Aug. 1.—Cracksmen did a job at Niles post office this morning. They blew the safe, completely wrecked the office, got $160 cash and 2,000 stamps of the various denominations. The three men in the gang got away in a buggy.

NEW STRIKE

Boilermakers at Chicago Went on a Strike This Morning Demanding Higher Wages.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—The strike of the boiler makers and helpers went into effect this morning. They number 1,000 and have the support of an international organization of 35,000 members. The boiler makers are striking for 50 cents an hour for outside work and 25 cents inside. The helpers want 25 and 30 cents. Chairman Job, of the state board of arbitration has tendered his services to the men in order to facilitate a settlement.

HORSES DIED

And the Malloes Were Obligated to Beg. Finally Sent Home—They Wanted Pensions.

Washington, Aug. 1.—William and Lizzie Malloy, husband and wife, who came here from near Columbus thinking they were entitled to pension money have been sent home by the Pensioners' Aid Society. They started overland in a wagon and their horses died. They begged food and finally were arrested for vagrancy and released when their story was told. They did not get a pension.

Newark Y. M. C. A. Camp.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 1.—Senator Hanna has sent a check of considerable size to the State Y. M. C. A. The funds are to be used by the organization at the annual encampment of the Ohio National Guard at Newark, where the association has been maintaining headquarters. During a banquet given on the grounds Governor Nash took occasion to be very complimentary to the organization for efficient work.

CIRCUIT JUDICIAL TICKET.
For Circuit Judge,
S. M. DOUGLASS, of Mansfield.

The decision of Judge Jackson of the West Virginia district court is a judicial enactment for the United States of the Filipino sedition law. Its application should deceive nobody. You may not be in sympathy with the striking coal miners, but the fact remains that the same principle can be extended to others if it can be extended to them. These people are punished for talking. And not because there is any law against talking, but because a judge had ordered them not to talk.

There is no law against talking, because the constitution of the United States prohibits any. That was one power which the people refused to confer on the national government. Before the constitution could be ratified there had to be a virtual agreement on the "bill of rights amendments," and the first of these is as follows:

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

And yet what congress cannot do by law? This judge proposes to do without law. The miners cannot hold a meeting to discuss their affairs under this ruling. But that is not all. Nobody can hold a meeting for any purpose if a federal judge sees fit to prohibit it. It is not the object of the meeting that makes it unlawful, but the fact that the judge has issued an injunction against it. There is only one way to meet such an usurpation of power. Judge Jackson ought to be impeached. If this is not done other judges may take his action as a precedent and carry the principle of arbitrary rule still further. Either a curb must be put on the aggressions of the federal courts or the constitution may as well be sold for waste paper, for the people's liberties will only be a memory of the past.

The trusts continue to laugh and grow fat despite Teddy's declarations. They inspired those declarations themselves so why shouldn't they laugh at the man who is gullible enough to take them seriously?—Exchange.

What most particularly pleases the trusts is that Teddy kept still while Congress was in session, and never did and talking about legislation against them till Congress had adjourned.

CUBA'S SERIOUS SITUATION.

There is no question that the situation in Cuba is growing from bad to worse. Dudley Bartlett, of Philadelphia, who has just returned from a three months' trip through the West Indies on behalf of the Commercial Museum, a Philadelphia trade organization, reports that Cuba is facing a crisis:

"There were thousands of dollars tied up in sugar," he says. "As an instance, at Matanzas I saw a million bags of sugar lying, and at Cardenas there was a like condition. One estate had 80,000 bags of sugar waiting for a market. All this sugar will have to be sold at a price to leave nothing for the colonist. Summed up, business is at a standstill and bankers fear the worst."

A similar statement is made by Major George M. Barbour, former sanitary commissioner at Santiago, who, describing conditions at Santiago, says:

"I estimate that in the province of Santiago alone there are now 14,000 unemployed laborers, and that number is increasing daily. Idleness means hunger that will progress into starvation, and that, of course, must mean ultimately riot, brigandage and anarchy. * * * There is literally no business (in the city of Santiago). The shops are empty. There is no manufacturing industry. Everything depends upon agriculture and as the plantations have suspended operations owing to the low price of sugar, which cannot be sold at a profit because of the American tariff, the prop of local trade has fallen."

There would have been relief for Cuba had the President and Senate assented to the passage of the House reciprocity bill. But the trusts stood in the way, and the President would not antagonize them.

Attorney-General Knox stepped from the employ of the steel trust into the attorney-generalship. And yet the administration would have us believe that he is going after the steel trust.

Newark Man Elected Vice President at Builders Meeting at Put-in-Bay.

Put-in-Bay, Ohio, Aug. 1.—The second annual convention of the Ohio State Association of Builders' Exchanges passed into history at noon yesterday with the election of the following officers: F. Q. Schoedinger, Columbus, president; J. R. Squires, Youngstown, first vice president; F. H. Weeks, Akron, second vice president; J. S. Dudley, Newark, third vice president; E. A. Roberts, Cleveland, secretary and treasurer.

The executive committee has not yet been appointed, nor has the next meeting place been selected. "Code legislation" and future possibilities of the Ohio State Association were leading questions discussed.

Negroes in Distress.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 1.—One hundred negroes comprising an entire settlement in a suburb of Texarkana, Ark., are camping in the school houses and railroad shops in the vicinity and are in great distress. They were forced to flee from their homes by the overflow of water which covered the settlement to a depth of five feet. They will have to be cared for.

Why Howe Stole.

Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—Amos Howe, an employe of the Columbus Dry Goods Company, was arrested on the charge of stealing. He admitted that he took some dry goods. He is paid $7 50 per week and supports a wife and child. He says he took the goods for his family because on his meager wages he could not buy their apparel.

GOSSIP

HAS IT THAT J. P. MORGAN IS TO RETIRE SOON,

And That George Perkins Will Take Up the Reins—Rapid Rise of Mr Perkins.

New York, Aug. 1.—Wall street is discussing a rumor that J. Pierpont Morgan is to retire from the management of the vast interests in his hands and that formal announcement of his retirement will be made when he returns next month from Europe. Financial circles say that private information regarding Morgan's health gives much color to the rumor.

So definite is the story that it gives the name of Geo. W. Perkins as the man who is to succeed Morgan in directing the affairs of the million and billion dollar aggregations controlled by the big bank.

Morgan's continued stay in Europe, his repeated visits to famous physicians and health resorts, all lend color to the story of failing health. The tremendous strain of recent years has worn out the great trust promoter and he finds himself at a point where further work is impossible.

It is said Morgan will retain an advisory connection, but will allow others to assume all the burdens of promoting and directing the enterprises.

Geo. W. Perkins, who is named as the future king of the street has been Morgan's right hand man for two years. He is but 40 years old and has spent them nearly all in the life insurance business. He began in Cleveland, Ohio, and ten years ago became superintendent of agencies for the New York Life Insurance company here. In that capacity he went abroad secured the admission of his company into Germany and other countries negotiated and carried out a big European loan and developed rare executive ability and business foresight.

Two years ago he was paid a salary of $300,000 per year to become Morgan's right hand man. He is chairman of the finance committee of the steel trust and handles Morgan's interest there. He planned the Northwestern securities company, settled the Northern Pacific war, conducted the Louisville and Nashville purchase and represented Morgan in settling its trouble in Kentucky, and is the prime mover in the Southern securities company, now being formed. In Morgan's absence Perkins is the directing power in all the Morgan interests.

LONG SLEEP

Little on the Rip Van Winkle Order. Leavitt Asleep Since April is Now Awake.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 1.—A case of continuous sleep, one of the rarest most mysterious and baffling of diseases has been successfully cured in Kansas City, and the patient, D. Leavitt of 3214 East Twelfth street, is now up and about. He had been sleeping since April 26.

Mr. Leavitt went to sleep at Parsons, Kan. and after 10 days was brought home, where he has since been. His physician's theory was that by sleeping on car seats, which he very frequently did, Leavitt has dislocated the end of the vertebrae, so that while the artery pumped blood into the brain, it was not carried back by the vein on the other side. This produced a stagnant condition of the blood in the brain and caused sleep. By kneading the vertebrae so as to give the vein room to pass the blood the patient's sleep was broken.

McKeesport was incorporated as a city in 1891.

SWIMMER

Forced to Leave the Water Owing to Strong Tide, But Will Try Again August 12.

Dover, England, Aug. 1.—Holbein, the long distance champion swimmer, who left Cape Gris Nez at 5:40 o'clock last night in an attempt to swim across the channel failed to reach this place. He was forced to leave the water at 6 o'clock this morning when he was but eight miles from Dover, on account of encountering an unexpectedly strong tide. He left the water in excellent physical condition. The swimmer had covered 30 miles when he had to give up the attempt. His time for the distance was 12 hours and 22 minutes. He will renew his attempt on August 12.

Worst in Years.

Peru, Ind., Aug. 1.—The worst storm in years raged here last evening. The country is flooded, growing corn is down and the bridge of the Lake Erie and Western is washed out. William Jeffries was paralyzed by lightning and three others were hurt. The water backed against the Wabash tracks and washouts are feared. The road is patrolled by a work train.

Mrs. Miller Released

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Anna T. Miller who has figured as the star in the sensation charges of blackmail preferred by the Federal authorities, has been released from jail. Her brother, William Thimmes of Lancaster, furnished the $3000 security.

Postal Inspector Oldfield denies emphatically that the blackmailing cases will be dropped.

Depositions in Maine.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 1.—Assistant Attorney General J. E. Todd was served with a notice by the attorneys for William M. Hahn of their intentions to take depositions in the case next week in Maine. The notice did not state whose deposition it was expected to take there, but Mr. Todd said he believed it was that of Virgil P. Kline who is spending the summer there. No one will go there to represent the state.

MRS. DOLBY'S TALKS

SHE HAS A FEW WORDS TO SAY TO THE DEACON.

He Is Told That He Is Going to the Dogs at a Very Rapid Pace, but Has Nothing to Say in Defense of His Case.

[Copyright, 1902, by C. E. Lewis.]
MRS. DOLBY had been down to the postoffice after supper, and upon returning he found Mrs. Dolby seated on the piazza with her spectacles on and a grim look around her mouth. He tenderly brushed a bug away that he might not crush it and sit down, with a sigh, and after a long look at him over her glasses Mrs. Dolby said:

"Zadok Dolby, I've got a few words to say to you, and you know I'm a woman who talks right out when she has anything to say. You are a deacon in the church, but deacons want talkin' to now and then as well as other folks. Three or four mornin' ago you woke up and found a hog in the garden. You jumped for a club and ran him four times about the place, and just as he went through a hole in the fence you brought him a whack and said somethin' to yourself. What it was I dunno, but that hog turned around and looked at you in amazement, and I heard a boy laugh out and clap his hands. Zadok, I've got my suspicions—I've got my suspicions that after bein' a livin' example for forty years you are gettin' tired of your job and want to become wicked and go to hoss races and county conventions."

Mr. Dolby hitched about uneasily and pulled at the leaves of the Virginia creeper running up beside him, but did not defend himself. He was allowed to have three minutes to do it in, and then Mrs. Dolby set her foot, to trotting and went on:

"One afternoon last week you was saunterin' about the back yard with your hands behind you and a contented look on your face. I was lookin' at you and thinkin' what a good man you was when you stepped on a blade of a hoe and the handle flew up and fetched you a whack on the head. You rubbed the spot, gave one look around, and then you kicked in the head of the old vinegar barrel and said somethin' as many as five times over. I couldn't catch the words, but my blood run cold for the next hour. Ever since then I've been askin' myself if I'm livin' with a man who may begin to chaw turmeric and bet on elections any mornin' in the year. Only last night I dreamed you had been churchin' for swearin' and that we was dividin' up the things and I was goin' home."

Mr. Dolby started to sigh, but saw two grasshoppers engaged in deadly combat on the ground and checked it to watch the struggle. He was mentally putting up a plunk that the cockeyed hopper would win over the old baldhead when Mrs. Dolby put on a more severe look and continued:

"I'm no hand to bring up things, Zadok, as you know, but I'm a truthful person and don't beat about the bush. You had never been to a circus when we got married, and you have never been to one since. You alius said that Satan and the circus was twin brothers. I know they have been postin' up bills for a circus that's comin' to town in two weeks, but I've been careful not to look at 'em. I've felt it my duty as your wife to turn my head away when I passed the picture, and if there had been any feelin' that I'd like to see the elephant I've come home and washed my mouth out with pepper sass. Yes, I've done all this, Zadok, but how is it with you? It wasn't three days ago that Mrs. Graham saw you standin' in front of a lot of circus pictures, and you was so wrapped up in 'em that you didn't hear her speak to you. She said she'd bet you'd sneak off to the performance at night if you wasn't afraid everybody would see you. She didn't tell it to be mean, but she thought it was her duty. When a deacon begins to go down hill, his wife had better look out. He's liable to murder her any day. Zadok, if Satan has got hold of you I want to know it. I want to help you to wrastle with him. Have you a feelin' that you'd like to go to the circus?"

The grasshopper fight was ended by this time, with cockeye as victor, and Mr. Dolby had been asked a straight question. He didn't answer, however. There was a wistful look on his face, and the memory of those pictures rose up before him, but he sighed softly and wondered if the hen that was trying to crowd under the gate would accomplish the feat.

"And what did my brother Moses have to tell me three or four days ago?" asked Mrs. Dolby as a touch of pathos came to her tone. "Moses is no hand to tell things. When his cow died two years ago, he never said a word about it for weeks. He didn't tell this to me to make trouble between us, but he thought I ought to be ready if a calamity was comin'. He was goin' past the baseball grounds one day last week, and there was a game on. I don't say that baseball is as sinful as hoss racin', but I do know, and you have alius said so yourself, that it's one of the paths that lead down to perdition. The players yell and whoop and swear and drink beer, and sometimes the game ends in a fight. Moses didn't think of goin' in, especially as the price was two shillin's admittance; and he was turnin' away from temptation when he saw you. You was standin' up to the fence and lookin' through a knot hole, and he called your name seven times without your hearin' him.

"Moses almost cried when he told me of it. He said the next thing would be a hoss race unless you got hold of yourself, and the next after that would be a grand crash. You can't go on this way, Zadok—you can't do it. I ain't sayin' you've come to any great harm yet, though I notice you pick out the shortest chapters in the Bible for family prayers. Do you realize that Satan is after you?"

The hen had got under the gate and gone, but Mr. Dolby had become interested in two hogs in the street. Both wanted the same mudhole for a bed, and a fight was imminent to see which should have possession. Mr. Dolby's sympathies were with the spotted hog, and he took no heed of the woman behind him. She didn't seem to expect him to, but after a couple of minutes feelingly observed:

"There's one thing more, Zadok, and I'm bound to tell you of it. One evenin' last week when you was milkin' the cow and I was in the barn lookin' for eggs I heard somethin' go 'spat,' and I looked out to find you in a heap on the ground. The cow had kicked you over. You got up and grabbed a piece of fence rail, and you lambasted her nine times, and every time you lambasted you jumped out a word. I don't know what it was, as I had my ears stopped up, but I know it wasn't 'sugar.' You was still mad when you come into the house, and you kicked the cat and clicked your teeth together. Zadok Dolby, the time has come when I must know what you mean to do. Are you goin' to keep right on this way and bring up in the fire and brimstone at last or are you goin' to stop where you are and become a livin' example of goodness again? I want a plain answer."

His Plan.

City Man—Yes; we all need a rest once in awhile.

"If he loved you when he married you," said Miss Caadid, "he would,"—Chicago Tribune.

Vacation Time.

Hey for the out of town summer resort! Hey for the place where the lucky dipport!

Hey for the mountain and hey for the lake! Hey for the earwig, the ant and the snake! Hey for the beds that are lumpy and ravy! Hey for the beefsteak so horribly tough! Hey for the skeeters, the chiggers and flies!

Hey for the joys that the country supplies! Think of the bliss that we shortly shall know! Think of the blisters we'll get when we go! Think of the blossoms in the woodlands so gay! Think of the hours we'll find in a day! Think how at dawn rise the cackles and crows!

Think of the skin that will peel from your nose! Think of all this while beginning to pack! Think how blamed glad we shall be to get back!

Sad is their lot who in town here must stay. Getting their eggs and milk fresh each day, Getting fresh fruits, also fresh garden sass, Going to shows their dull hours to pass, Blighted with bathtubs, tormented with flies, Cursed with all comforts not barred by the price! It is sad to reflect that they're missing the sport That we lucky ones get at the summer resort. —Chicago News.

IN CAMP

TROOPERS WILL MARCH BACK TO COLUMBUS TOMORROW.

Detail for Officers of Second Brigade Reaches Newark—Big Camp Opened Next Monday.

Camp McKinley, August 1.—The advance detail for the officers' headquarters of the Second Brigade, O. N. G., which goes into camp next Sunday, arrived here today and are at work getting things in readiness for the officers, who will occupy the same tents and the same location as the headquarters of the First Brigade.

Thursday was a day of all work and no play in the camps of Troop B and Battery D. Both organizations were mustered and inspected by Assistant Adjutant General Colonel Taylor, Col. Hopkins and Major Rogers of the 20th regiment, U. S. A., stationed at the Columbus barracks. In the inspection of Troop B the troopers showed up in great shape and elicited favorable comments on all sides, the inspecting officers especially being well pleased with the showing that was made.

Considerable excitement was created in the camp of Troop B yesterday over the report that Hostler Henry Schmidt had taken poison, and there was a great hurrying to and fro among the troopers. It was soon ascertained, however, that the only poison he had taken was a big dose of arnica, mistaken for whisky, which had been prescribed for him. He was turned over to Surgeon Burkett who soon brought him around. It is safe to say that he will not repeat the mistake.

All of the members of the Hospital corps together with Captain Iford, of the Sixth regiment, having been in camp for eighteen days, in attendance upon the two members of the Third regiment, from Dayton, who were exposed to smallpox, were relieved of their duties and all took dinner together. The boys were all jubilant over their release and said it was just like getting out of prison. All left for their homes today.

Private Holtfreiler of Battery D, who was taken suddenly sick with malarial fever, has recovered and, having been returned to his quarters by Surgeon Iford of the First Brigade Hospital Corps.

Considerable target practice was engaged in by the members of Battery D, and some excellent shots were made.

During the encampment of the Second Brigade next week the Fourth regiment will not be without its social features. According to the program already laid out there will be three big receptions, one for the B. P. O. E., one for the Governor and staff, and one for the thirty-third degree Masons.

A visitor at the camp can see and hear almost anything he wants by taking a leisurely stroll through the streets of the camp. On one side you will see a crowd surrounding two disciples of the manly art and expressing their approval of a well directed upper cut by vociferous cheering. Boxing gloves are found in both the troop and battery. Some of the men are quite scientific and these find little difficulty in getting a crowd to watch the sparring. The admirers of the roped arena are quite numerous.

A happy little incident occurred in camp on Thursday evening. Captain Iford of the Sixth regiment, Toledo, Surgeon, who has been in charge of the First Brigade Hospital corps, ever since the encampment of the Brigade, in attendance upon the smallpox suspects, was treated to a surprise. Mr. Ralph Malard, on behalf of the Hospital corps, presented Captain Iford with a handsome real alligator cigar case, as a token of the great esteem in which he is held by them, and for the faithful manner in which he had performed his duties while in camp.

There were quite a number of visitors in camp on Wednesday, due to inspection. Captain H. B. Norton, who was formerly Captain of Battery D, but who resigned last February, has been in camp all week, the guest of the Battery. Captain Norton has been in the service of the Ohio National Guard for seventeen years and was captain of the battery for ten years.

A. A. Shrock one of the best troopers in Troop B was accidentally kicked by a vicious horse during drill Thursday, and his left ankle was badly injured. He was excused from duty in consequence of his injury, but is able to get around today. He will be all right in a day or two.

Troop B will break camp at 4 o'clock on Saturday morning. The boys expect to arrive home about five o'clock Saturday evening.

Among the visitors in camp from Columbus were Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Clouse, Mrs. Murrell, Mrs. Palmer, wife of Lieut. R. D. Palmer, Ed Davis and mother, Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Yeizer.

Major Rogers of the Twentieth Infantry, U. S. A., gave the troopers an exceedingly interesting talk on military tactics, and answered all questions that were asked him. The Major is an old messmate of Captain Converse, the popular and efficient drill master of the troop.

ROWND ISLAND

CLUB IS TO BE REORGANIZED AND INCORPORATED.

Proposed to Acquire Beach Island at Buckeye Lake and Establish Permanent Quarters.

There was a large meeting of members of the Rownd Island Club, at Kusters' last evening, about 25 being present and the evening was spent in the discussion of important changes in the club's future policy.

Dr. A. T. Speer, president of the club, presided and stated that it was generally felt that the club should have a more permanent organization and better equipped headquarters, and that action along these lines ought to be taken at once.

It was finally decided to reorganize the club on the following basis. To get at least 100 members of the club, that is nearly the present membership to subscribe $15 each, stock in the new club, which would then be duly incorporated under the Ohio laws.

New quarters for the club, would be secured, and it was decided that if the club is organized according to the above plan, that the best place would be Beach Island on Buckeye Lake, which is now under lease by Lake, which is now under lease by Mr. Pos. Sprague. This lease could be bought for $500 including the cottage and other property on the island.

The $1,000 left over could be used to a great advantage in improving the approach to the island, making a landing, building other buildings, etc. to make the place ideal.

Beach Island is across the lake from W. C. Wells, south-east. The island is east of Shell Beach and not as far from Wells as Rownd Island. To give a better idea of the location if one stands on the pier at Wells facing the lake, Beach Island is across to the left, and Rownd Island to the right also across the lake.

It is thought that the plan is not only feasible, but that it will meet with the hearty support of the members. If so the matter will be closed up at once.

Ritter-Chambers Case.

Mrs. Jennie Ritter, 217 East Main street, has in her possession a letter signed "Mrs. Mary Chambers" which says that said Mary Chambers acknowledges the truth of the statement and charges in the case styled the State of Ohio vs. Mary Chambers. The statement says that said Mary Chambers admits that she was not telling the truth concerning the character of said Jennie Ritter and adds: "I further acknowledge that I was under the influence of liquor and was very angry when I made the statement," concerning Mrs. Ritter.

This was a slander suit which was dismissed when Mary Chambers signed the paper admitting the falsity of charges against Mrs. Ritter.

A PANTHER'S DEN.

Clean and Bright, In Decided Contrast to the Popular Idea.

It was my good fortune to discover the newly abandoned lair of a cougar family and further and to me new evidence of that fastidious cleanliness which is a marked characteristic of the animal. This retreat was not at all the typical "panther's den" of tradition, but a bush grown harborage under the edge of a rock with just enough of shelf to keep off the rain. I should not have found this breeding place but for a certain well gnawed array of bones scattered over a little smooth bench above a creek channel. From this boneyard there was a very traceable path leading through grass and brush to the retreat where the dam had housed her young. The evidence here told plainly of the cougar's long immunity from annoyance and attack and of a thoroughly cleanly habit of life. There was no bone or other sign of feasting about the lair. The dam had carried her kill to the creek bench in every instance, and the children had been called to the dining room. As bones which would have been crunched or eaten by grown animals had been perfectly cleaned by the kits I was able to judge of their summer's diet. This had consisted mostly of minor game, rabbits, marmots, grouse and the like, with an occasional small deer. At least one whole family of badgers, old and young, had been served, pussy having probably lain for them at their hole until they were all in.—Franklin Welles Calkins in Outing.

Lieut. Pertz has been expelled from an Austrian Hussa regiment because he did not use his sword on a laborer who struck him.

PEOPLE OF OTHER CITIES.

Have Heard of One of Newark's Famous Physicians as the Following Letter Will Show.

Editor Advocate—This is to certify that I have been under treatment of the British physician one month for a terrible form of piles and kidney trouble and will say the treatment has done me more good than all the treatment I have ever taken and I have been afflicted for ten years.

E. H. GIST.

Granville, Ohio.

This letter was written to the public in order that everyone might take advantage of the liberal offer now being made.

The British Doctor treats all forms of disease and deformities, and guarantees a cure in every case they undertake. At the first interview a thorough examination is made, and, if incurable you are frankly and kindly told so; also advised against spending your money for useless treatment.

Male and female weakness, catarrh and catarrhal deafness, also varicose veins, rupture, goitre, cancer, the opium habit, hay fever, locomotor ataxia, epilepsy and Bright's disease, are positively cured by their new treatment.

They make no charge for examination and charge only for the medicine.

Their office is located at 300 West Main street, Flat 2, Avalon Building west end entrance. Hours, 9 to 8, Sundays 10 to 1.

RESOLUTION.

Resolution to improve Cedar street from East Main street to a point opposite the office of Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Newark, Ohio, two-thirds of the whole number of the members elected thereto concurring therein,

That it is deemed necessary by said city and this council hereby declares that it is necessary to improve Cedar street in said city from East Main street to a point opposite Cedar Hill Cemetery, by excavating, grading, preparing foundation, constructing and setting a curb on each side of said Cedar street, between said points, and laying brick thereon in accordance with the plans, profiles, estimates and specifications relating to said improvement now on file at the office of the City Clerk.

That the cost and expense of said improvement, less the cost and expense of improving street, alley or highway intersections, and less one-fifth of the entire cost and expense thereof, shall be assessed per foot upon the lots and lands abutting thereon; said assessments shall be payable in twenty semi-annual installments and bonds shall be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof.

That the City Clerk is hereby directed to cause this resolution to be published for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published and of general circulation in the corporation and F. H. Vogelmeier is hereby appointed to serve written notice of the passage of this resolution upon the property owners of the lots and lands abutting upon said improvement, or to the persons in whose name the same may be assessed upon the tax duplicate for taxation, who are residents of Licking County, Ohio, as required by law for which service he shall be paid the usual fee for serving notices.

Passed July 21, 1902.

HARRY W. ROSSEL, President of Council.

F. T. MAURATH, City Clerk.

WORK BEGINS

On Rebuilding the Independent Telephone System of Newark—Mr. Petrey is Here.

Mr. E. E. Petrey who built the United States Long Distance Telephone lines over Ohio, has arrived in Newark to begin the work of reconstructing the Independent Telephone system in this city. Mr. Petrey is superintendent for W. H. Crumb & company of Chicago, who received the contract for rebuilding the plant.

The Telephone company has just made the contract for the new multiple switchboard which will be installed and in working order on or before December 1. Contract has also been made for new central energy telephones throughout the city. Every phone now in use comes down and a new central energy instrument will take its place.

The local company is going to the expense of nearly $50,000 to re-equip its system but it promises the finest and most complete system of any town of its size in the country.

Mr. Petrey says that he will begin work with a gang of men next week in setting pole lines. The new system will use eight miles of cable and all will be metallic.

TWO KILLED

MEN WALKING FROM NEWARK TO COLUMBUS.

J. M. Anderson and Obe Jones Met Instant Death Near Alum Creek East of Columbus

(Columbus Citizen)

J. M. Anderson of 707 Smith avenue, Kenton, Ohio, and Obe Jones living at 37 1-2 South Scioto street, were instantly killed by a Pan Handle fast mail train near Alum creek station late Wednesday afternoon.

The train which struck the men was No. 11 due in Columbus at 4 p. m. The train was late and running at a high rate of speed when it struck the two men who are said to have been walking on the track with their backs to the approaching train. The train crew went on to Cincinnati and the details of the accident have not yet been obtained by Coroner Lindsay.

The train was stopped after the accident and the two dead bodies were picked up and brought to the Union depot, from which place patrol No. 2 removed them to the morgue. Both bodies were badly mangled and many bones were broken.

From papers found in the possession of one of the men it was learned that his name was James M. Anderson and that he lived at 707 Smith avenue, Kenton. This was verified by a message which was received from the chief of police of Kenton shortly after midnight. Anderson has a sister, a Mrs. May Westerville who resides in Marion township, but on account of the distance which she lives from this city Coroner Lindsay was unable to notify her of her brother's death last night.

There was nothing on the person of the other man by which he might be identified, but by diligent search Coroner Lindsay found that his name was Obe Jones and that his sister May lived at 37 1-2 Scioto street.

Nothing is known regarding the presence of the two men at the place where the accident happened, but it is supposed that they were walking to Columbus. Anderson had 35 cents in his clothes while no money was found on Jones' person.

Mrs. May Westerville, Anderson's sister, called at the coroner's office Thursday morning and said her brother and Jones had probably started to walk from Newark to Columbus. They went to Newark together last week. Anderson's parents live at Newark, and the body will probably be sent there for burial.

May Jones the sister of the other man, and other relatives of Obe Jones will arrange for his burial.

LOST CHILD

Found in Business Part of Town and Taken to Her Home on Hoover Street.

Considerable excitement was created in the North End on Thursday afternoon by the disappearance of the little nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre who reside on Hoover street. The little girl had been sent on an errand to Schimpf's grocery, and not returning promptly, a search was instituted for her. No trace of her whereabouts, however, was learned for some time, when Wm. Roller, a glass worker, found her in the business portion of the city. She had become lost and was unable to find her way back home. Mr. Roller restored her to the parents, who were very grateful for her return.

Gave Them a Baggage Car

Frazeysburg has a new passenger station. It was taken to that place on wheels the other day and answers the purpose of an ordinary railroad building. The Pan Handle was about to erect a new station and it was necessary to have something on hand to supply temporary needs. The people wondered what it would be but the Dennison wreck train settled all the doubts by arriving with a baggage car. Carpenters soon put in partitions, and the agent is ready for business—Collision Age.

Cause of Wreck Unknown.

Marietta, O., Aug. 1.—Inspector O. F. McFunkin of the state railway commissioners office has made his report to Commissioner J. C. Morris, of the B. & O. wreck, on the Marietta division last week by which two Columbus people were killed. He found the track and the wheels of the car that left the track on the trestle in perfect condition. No cause for derailment could be found there. He found that the same coach had been derailed at Marietta the night before but it was derailed by a big stone getting into the flange groove at a crossing. It is possible that in this derailment a truck was "slewed" around so that it did not stand square on the rails but in that case it could hardly have run 140 miles without leaving the track.

DR. SHRONTZ

HOPEFUL OF BUILDING THAT ELECTRICAL LINE.

Survey Commences August 4—Project is Very Much Alive—The Doctor Talks About It.

Dr. J. F. Shrontz, who is one of the hustlers in the interests of the proposed electric railroad between Mt. Vernon and Newark by the way of Gambier and Martinsburg, was in Mt. Vernon Wednesday. The doctor states that the partnership formed by fifteen Mt. Vernon, Martinsburg and Newark men is actively engaged in promoting the interests of the road. He states that the work of surveying the rights of way begins Aug. 4, as soon as it is completed the commissioners of Knox and Licking counties will be asked for franchises over roads and properties belonging to the counties. The road will be built for most part over private right-of-way, land-owners along the route having signified their willingness to donate the land necessary to secure the road.

Dr. Shrontz states that a number of capitalists are interested in the road and will lend it a strong backing as soon as the company gets the matters in shape. It is the intention to make the road one for freight as well as passenger service, and as it will pass through virgin country it will be one of the best paying institutions of the kind in the state. Another splendid feature of the road over the route proposed is the fact that it passes through level valleys and but two bridges of any consequence will be required on the entire road, one of these being over Owl creek and the other over the Licking river.

All those directly interested in the building of the road are enthusiastic over recent developments and have every confidence that the road will be built. They should receive the early assistance of every person in Mt. Vernon and Knox county. If this road is built it is almost certain that others will be constructed within a short time.—Mt. Vernon Republican-News.

FORRY OPTION IS EXTENDED.

Board of Trade Given More Time to Land the Steel Mill—Items of Expense in Building Property—Some Objections Answered—An Earnest Effort Will Be Made To Land This Big New Industry.

While the Newark Board of Trade was putting forth every effort to raise money with which to bring the Jewett Car Works to this city, some people who should have helped did all they could to discourage the work and many stood on the street corners and "confidentially" made disparaging remarks about the factory. This "knocking" which was persistently kept up, had its effect and at one time the project was practically abandoned. Then the Board of Trade, which had investigated the plant thoroughly and knew what it would do for Newark, took up the work with renewed vigor and decided to land the prize, in spite of all the "kickers" in town. The Board succeeded and as a result Newark points with pride to one of the biggest and best institutions in the country located in West Newark. It has given employment to over 300 people and has helped wonderfully to make Newark prosperous. Those who discouraged the work of the Board before it was accomplished now admit their error and everybody agrees that the Board is to be complimented for getting this plant.

The experience of the Board of Trade with the Jewett Car Works may have its counterpart in the Steel Mill proposition.

The Board of Trade did not enter into a contract with L. C. Taylor & Company with undue haste. The same careful study of the proposition was made as in the Car works deal and after repeated conferences with certain street was. I told them I did not know. One of them grasped me by the arm. I was terribly frightened and began to feel faint. I saw a carriage standing there. I remember nothing more. When I awoke I didn't know where I was. I thought it was evening, but the sun came up and it got lighter. I was in a park, I think. I could see no houses and I felt strange and lost. Then I came to a street and people were staring at me. I was not in my senses I guess.

"I was going to see some friends on Thurstman street," she said. "I stopped to wait for a car. Two men stepped up to me and asked me where a

Mr. Taylor a contract highly favorable to the city was made. Much time had been consumed however, in the negotiations between the Board and Mr. Taylor so that when the time for the opening of the lot sale arrived but a few days to run. Realizing that the time was short the committees went to work to dispose of the lots but as in the Car Works affair, they bumped up against some people who threw cold water on the plan.

Some said that Taylor was simply a promoter and that he had no company organized. Others insisted that if a company was formed that it would put no more money into the plant than was secured through the sale of lots. Some held that when hard times come again the mill would close. A few said the company would sell out to the trust and close the plant. Three or four argued that the price of the lots was too high. Others opposed it because they would oppose anything to the growth of the town.

These criticisms and the failure of a few who would be directly and immediately benefitted by the new plant to buy lots dampened the ardor of the committees and as the time for the expiration of the option was at hand the Board practically gave up hope of accomplishing the work. Mr. Forry became convinced that he had optioned the property at too low a figure and he preferred to let the option lapse but at the solicitation of the Board Mr. Forry last night agreed to a short extension of the option. This gives the Board more time to finish the work and gives it another chance to get the steel mill.

Answering some of the objections that have been raised the Board of Trade asserts that Mr. Taylor has his company formed and ready to incorporate for $250,000. Assurance is given that some of the men in the company are people high in the financial and steel world. As an evidence of the fact that he means business attention is directed to the new plant just finished at Marietta. Mr. Taylor engineered that institution and he did it to the great satisfaction of all the people of Marietta.

Here are a few items of expenses attending the building of the mill in Newark: Mill foundations (two million bricks and two thousand barrels of cement) $27,000. Buildings $25,000. Hot mills and shears $40,000. One 1,400 horse power Corliss engine, which has been optioned $16,000. Furnaces and equipment $23,000. Boilers $10,000. Floor plates $2,000. Trucks, etc. $2,000. Galvanizing plant $10,000. Electric cranes $10,000. Steam fittings $5,000.

Besides these items it may be added that there will be one hundred car loads of machinery. The factory will establish its own electric light plant and everything will be of the latest and most modern equipment.

The plant will be so built that it can be operated at profit when 3-1 of the steel mills are forced to close. The company has a low coal rate and its proximity to the coal field and Licking county gas field should not be lost sight of.

The lots are today worth the price asked for them—or they will be worth the price as soon as the grading is done and the street cut under the railroad tracks. Other lots more remote are now bringing higher prices. Will the big plant not increase the value of the lots?

The contract provides that the mill will not sell to the disadvantage of the city.

Already a large block of the lots has been subscribed for and now that an extension of the time to finish the sale has been granted the Board of Trade has encouragement to go ahead.

Certain people about town will be directly benefitted by this plant. Who will not be helped by having $20,000 to $25,000 more paid out each month in wages? Will not 300 more families mean more houses, more work, more business more prosperity for this popular growing city? Isn't the proposition worth considering? Look at the accompanying sketch showing how the buildings on the Forry property will appear. Go over to the office of the Newark Real Estate and Improvement Company, 14 N. Park place, and see the plat. See the pictures of the Forry house that will be given free to some lot buyer—a $4,500 property for nothing. Think it all over carefully and when the committees call upon you be ready to lend a helping hand. You will not be helping the committee. You will be assisting yourself and will be helping to boom Newark.

YOUNG BRIDE

Held Captive by Strangers—Placed in a Carriage at Cleveland and Chloroformed.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 1—Mrs. Ewald Karle, a bride of two months, who had been mysteriously missing since Wednesday has returned. She fell fainting as she stepped from a car and was carried home by men who ran to her assistance. Her husband believes she was chloroformed by unknown men on a street corner near her home, driven away in a carriage and held captive by them until yesterday, when she came to her senses.

"I was going to see some friends on Thurstman street," she said. "I stopped to wait for a car. Two men stepped up to me and asked me where a

LOVE CHUNG

And the People of Circleville Will Petition That Uncle Sam Readmit the Chinaman.

Columbus, O., Aug. 1—Immigration Inspector Milton Smiley, of this city has just sent to the authorities at San Francisco a statement relative to the Ohio connections of Chan Chee Chung, a Chinaman held at San Francisco for investigation.

Chung was a resident of Circleville, Ohio, and made a trip to his native country. On July 21 he was detained at San Francisco. The suspicion was that he is a laundryman, which, under the recent act of Congress, would rate him as a common laborer, and he would have to retire to China.

Chung is a naturalized citizen of the United States, and has voted at several elections. He is a member of a social organization in Circleville known as "The Brownies," with some of the best citizens of Circleville, and he is a member of the Presbyterian Church in that city.

When the citizens of Circleville learned of the predicament of Chan Chee Chung they responded to try to get him out of trouble. Prominent ministers, members of churches regardless of denominations, merchants, politicians, Judge Abernathy and several ex-state officials have been active in his behalf, and state that a petition of 500 names could be obtained in 24 hours if necessary.

Several prominent citizens will testify that, while Chung, perhaps, owns a laundry, he never worked in it himself, nor did he depend on it for his livelihood. This is believed by them to constitute a merchant.

"F O R C E"

FIRST CHOICE are the words for which these big letters stand. FIRST CHOICE of an article of diet should be one that not only is pleasing to the taste, but also gives nourishment, strength, and vigor. Each organ of the body thrives upon a different food element, and, in order that every organ shall have just the proper amount of work, these elements must be furnished in certain proportions. Whole wheat, any good doctor will tell you, contains all the elements for building up the whole body and in just the correct proportions. Most of us already have abused our stomachs, and this organ has been overworked. It requires a tonic and assistance in the work of digestion. Malt is the best tonic.

"FORCE" is a combination of the whole of the wheat and barley malt, delivered to you ready cooked, and ready to serve, in the form of a sweet, crisp, delicate flake of exceedingly pleasing flavor. Ask the grocer about it.

A Wonderful Boy.
We met in the midst of a dream,
But I'm waiting for him to come true'
The style of his nose I've completely forgot,
But his eyes, I remember, were blue.

It was just eight p. m. by the clock—
Which stood, I recall, on its head—
When his mother spoke up and said,
"Kiss me, my son,
And run away quickly to bed"

I thought that the next thing would be
A loud wrath and perhaps even tears,
But instead—well, I really gave you my word
That I've not been so staggered for years!

For he mumbled, this wonderful boy—
(I can feel my astonishment yet!),
"It's a pity I can't go at seven when you know How tired and sleepy I get!"

I felt myself falling away;
(In dreams chairs collapse without squeaking),
And when I came to the first thing that I heard
Was the voice of the fond mother speaking.

She was kind she was patient, but firm,
And her calm words decided his fate,
"It is settled, my son, that a boy of your size Must learn to sit up until eight."

I sat on the floor, and I stared
In dazed way from one to the other;
Then I said, "You are truly a wonderful boy
—the son of a wonderful mother!"

PLUMAGE

OF BIRDS FOR MILLINERY USE IS FORBIDDEN.

A Provision of an Act Passed by the Ohio Legislature Which is of Interest to Everybody.

Toledo game wardens says the Blade, wish to give as much publicity as possible to the clause of the new law passed by the last general assembly, relating to the slaughter of birds other than those coming under the head of the state game law. The new law, after imposing penalties and making other provisions for its enforcement, proceeds to say that "no part of the plumage, skin or body of any bird, protected by this section shall be sold or had in possession, dead or alive."

Then follows a list of the protected birds, which includes every member of the feathered tribe not mentioned under the head of game birds, and it is further provided that the latter can only be had in possession during the open season.

Now, what the state game wardens wish to impress upon the ladies is the fact that they propose to enforce the law to the letter, as they are sworn to do. Toledo millinery stores are to be investigated and if it is found that the law is being violated the proprietors will be promptly arrested. Women appearing on the streets with birds on their hats or bonnets, whether they be rich or poor, are liable to arrest and fine. The law also provides against the bringing of slaughtered birds from other states, hence the fact that a bird may have been killed in Michigan, or any state outside of Ohio, will not figure with the game wardens. The officers declare they will show no favors to any one. The minimum penalty for infraction of the law is $50.

Just now it is not the fashion to wear dead birds or parts thereof, on hats and bonnets, although an occasional instance of the kind is noted on the streets, and it is said that the dealers in millinery have quite a stock on hand.

Loftus' Successor.

In connection with the announcement of Supt. M. J. Loftus' resignation as Superintendent of the Newark and Granville road, the Columbus Dispatch says:

While Mr. Loftus' successor has not yet been appointed, there is some talk that Auditor Davis, of the Buckeye Lake line, is being considered. Auditor Davis has had many years' experience with the steam railroads of Ohio, especially of the Hocking Valley, and it is claimed would make a capable man for the position.

We invite attention to the above statement, and upon its merits confidently solicit new business.

The large capital and surplus of the bank, its financial position and its established reputation for conservative banking methods are among the substantial advantages offered to present and prospective patrons. To maintain and to increase these advantages is the policy of the management.

The equipment in every department is thorough, modern and efficient. We take particular pains to make our customers feel that we are in business to serve them, and that nothing we can do within the limit of safe banking is too much trouble, if it will accommodate a depositor.
